THE BEGINNING OF THE END!!

FLIGHT OF THE PHOENIX!

THE FLYING PHOENIX FIRE TEMPLE HAS RETURNED FROM ITS EXPLORATION MISSION... BUT WHAT DID IT DISCOVER?

Fluminox checked the hourglass again. The Blazing Bastion should have been back long before now. What trouble had that hot-headed Foltrax got himself into this time?

Just then, there was a wall-shaking thump overhead. A moment later, the doors burst open and Foltrax soared through. He folded his fiery wings as he landed before the Phoenix Tribe leader, looking quite excited. "Fluminox!" he shouted. "You'll never believe what I've found!"

Fluminox cleared his throat. "The wise may believe many things, but the fool believes even more. You were supposed to scout and learn of the latest damage that the Ice Tribes have created, Foltrax. Why was your return delayed?"

CAN YOU FIND FLUMINOX'S SON, FLINX, HIDING SOMEWHERE IN THE PICTURES?

DO YOU KNOW WHAT LEFT THESE TRACKS?
THE ANSWER IS ON THE NEXT PAGE!

"WELL, YOUR FLAME-NESS,
IT WENT LIKE THIS..."

It was a day like any other in Chima... that is to say, like any other day when the entire land was under attack by prehistoric Ice Hunters with terrible freezing powers.

Whooping and laughing, I flew high over the icy landscape at the controls of the Blazing Bastion, the giant bird-shaped craft that forms the top of the ancient Phoenix Fire Temple. I knew that my mission was to explore and return as quickly as possible, but I hadn't been able to resist a few daring aerial stunts.

It was at the end of my most stomach-churning loop-de-loop that I spotted something unusual down below in the snow. It was a set of footprints – but the feet that they belonged to were quite mysterious.

"Whatever left those tracks must be enormous," I thought. "They're way bigger than any prints a Rhino would make. Even that massive mammoth Mungus has smaller feet than these ones!"

But the size of the tracks wasn't the strangest thing about them. No, the most peculiar part was surely the twin trail of narrow grooves that ran between them. I was completely bewildered. "Two tails, dragging in the snow behind the creature. What kind of beast has two tails?"

As I followed the tracks, the mystery only deepened. Here and there were signs of battle: chunks of ice and puddles of melted snow that suggested a fight between Ice Hunters and someone who wielded Fire CHI. The creature seemed to have gone wild, whipping its two tails all around, for they weaved between and around the footprints as if they had a life of their own. Sometimes they even split apart and went in different directions!

Only one being in all of Chima was wise enough to know what kind of thing this might be: Fluminox the Phoenix King. Wheeling the Blazing Bastion around in the air, I set a course towards home.

"And that's why I was late coming back," Foltrax explained as he finished his tale. "If there is some strange new creature in Chima, then we need to know what it is – and you're definitely the Phoenix to ask!"

Fluminox closed his eyes for a long moment, as if deep in thought. When he opened them again, Foltrax couldn't help but think that he looked just a little bit annoyed. "Sometimes the answers to life's greatest mysteries turn out to lie just beneath your nose," Fluminox said, gravely. "Or, in this case, right outside the window."

Foltrax looked. Now he could see exactly what had created the strange footprints. Outside was a gigantic mammoth-shaped mech, with Maula, the Mammoth Tribe matriarch, trumpeting commands from its cockpit. It bristled with ice cannons and freeze missiles... and its feet matched up perfectly with the footprints he had discovered in the snow.

It must have come to attack the Fire Temple while the Blazing Bastion was away. And it might have succeeded if not for the two small vehicles that zoomed around its feet. As the brave young princes Laval and Cragger had pursued the Ice Mammoth Stomper across the snow, the single wheels of their Speedorz had left the grooves that Foltrax had mistaken for tails.

"I guess that mystery is solved," Foltrax said with a laugh. "And now I'd better get the Blazing Bastion back into the air so I can help those two heroes out!"

MAKE WAY FOR MORE MIXELS!

Watch out! Here come two more tribes of Mixels, with their own special brands of craziness. Ever been sneezed on by a member of the Glorp Corp? Hugged by a Spikel? Keep reading to meet the newest members of the Mixels crowd!

TORTS

Thanks to being covered with slimy goo, everything sticks to him. The good news is that he moves slowly, so if a Mixel needs an item, they can probably grab it off Torts as he goes by.

GLOMP

Glomp is known for two things: constantly coming up with crazy schemes, and always having a cold.

Other Mixels know to stay far away from his runny nose and explosive sneezes.

THE GLORP CORP

These green and gooey Mixels live in the swamp. They love adventure and extreme stunts, always looking for the next big thrill!

GLURT

Glurt loves trash. If he's not at the swamp, he's at the dump. And if it's stinky, smelly, old and worn out, Glurt has a name for it: lunch!

Mixels

THE SPIKELS

They're cute and cuddly ... at least, they think so. The only problem with all the love and affection the Spikels want to shower everyone with is that their bodies are covered with sharp spikes.

HOOGI

He just wants to give everybody a big, warm hug ... well, a big, warm, kind of painful hug thanks to his spiked hands. But a hug is a hug, right?

FOOTI

He's full of energy and loves to dance – but if one of his spiked feet steps on yours, you won't be dancing (or anything else) for a while.

SCORPI

Snuggly and sweet, Scorpi just wants to cuddle. But with that spiked tail getting in the way, he has a hard time finding someone to snuggle up to.

PICK UP TRUCK POWER!

TECHNIC

The Customized Pick Up Truck is a rugged vehicle, with powerful wheels, a strong chassis, fully independent suspension and a V-6 engine. Pick Up Trucks are used for heavy-duty jobs like transporting building materials or towing heavy objects. Check out these fun facts about real pick up trucks and solve the activity to find the answer!

-  The average pick up truck can tow anywhere from 3,300 to 9,900 pounds!
-  If a large truck is traveling at 54 mph, it needs at least 590 feet to slow down and come to a complete stop!
-  The pick up truck's bed lifts to easily dump your cargo!
-  The GCW of a truck is the gross combined weight. Which means the weight of the truck, the driver, and any cargo.

TOUGH JOBS
TAKE PURE POWER!

The bulldozer is one of the most important pieces of equipment on any building site. The LEGO® Technic designers set out to duplicate in detail one of these massive machines, and succeeded in capturing the power of this construction and demolition king.

The ripper is used to break up rocky or very hard ground so it can be graded. The Technic model features a multi-shank ripper to tear up ground at farms and vineyards.

Tracks allow bulldozers to move across rough or uneven terrain.

A heavy plate called the blade pushes sand, soil and debris. The Technic model has an S-U combination blade, designed for pushing piles of large rocks. An S-U blade is short, not as curved as some blades, and has smaller side wings. It's normally used for pushing large rocks.

Put this bulldozer to work on the toughest jobs, then rebuild it into a Trench Digger.

You can also build a trench digger with this model. To find out how, go to LEGO.com/technic

BATTLE WITH A DRAGON!

NINJAGO
Masters of Spinjitzu

MY NAME IS ZANE. I'M A NINDROID, SUPER-STRONG, FAST, TOUGH, AND CALM IN JUST ABOUT ANY SITUATION.

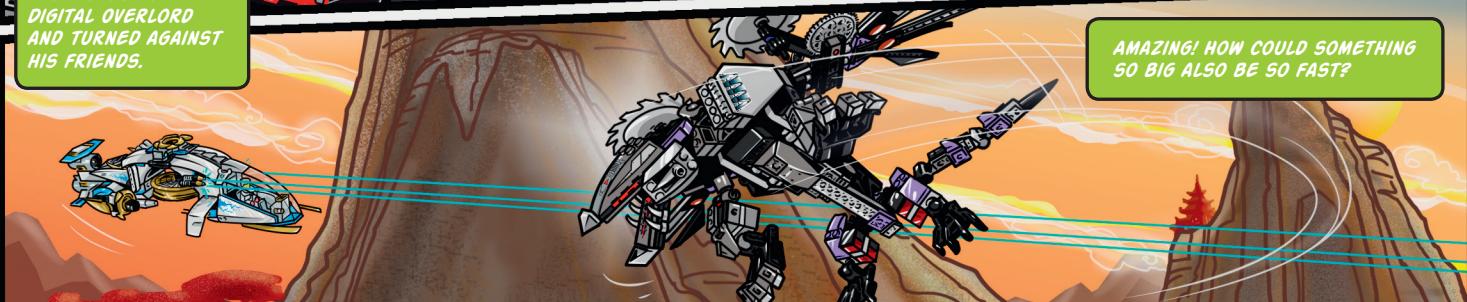

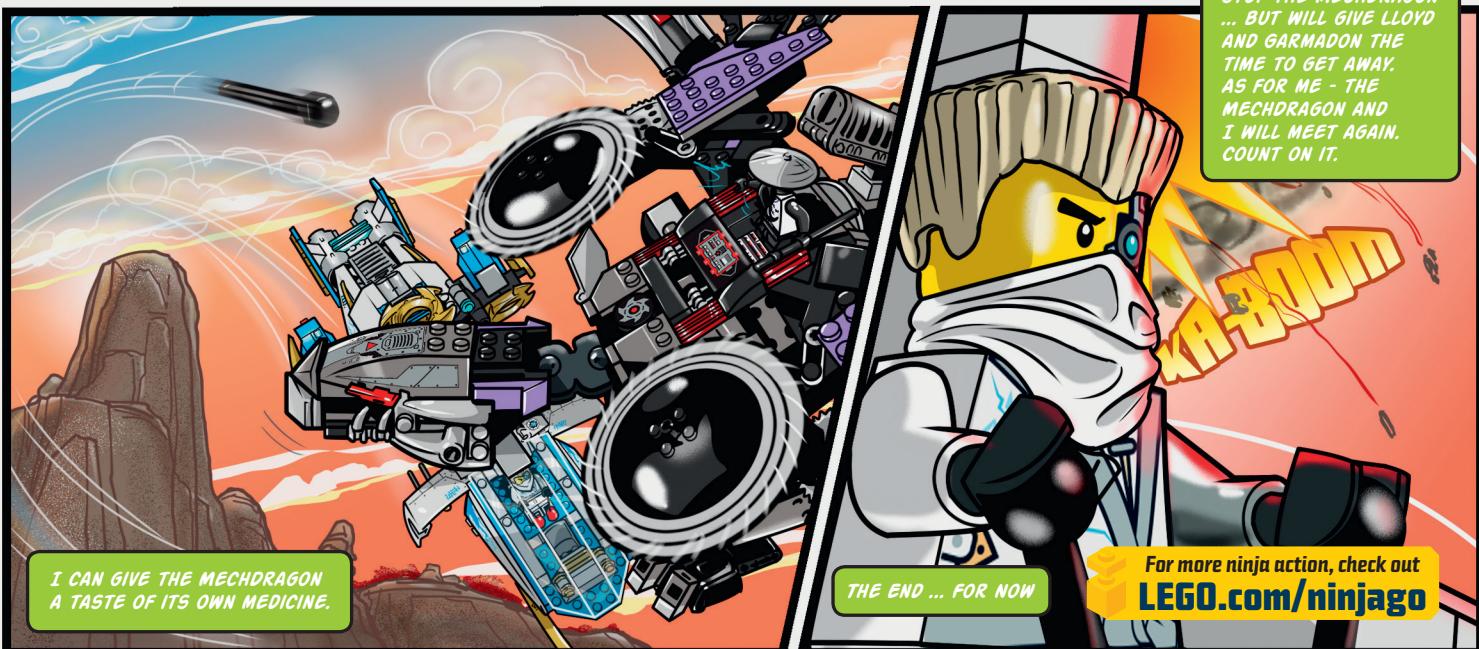

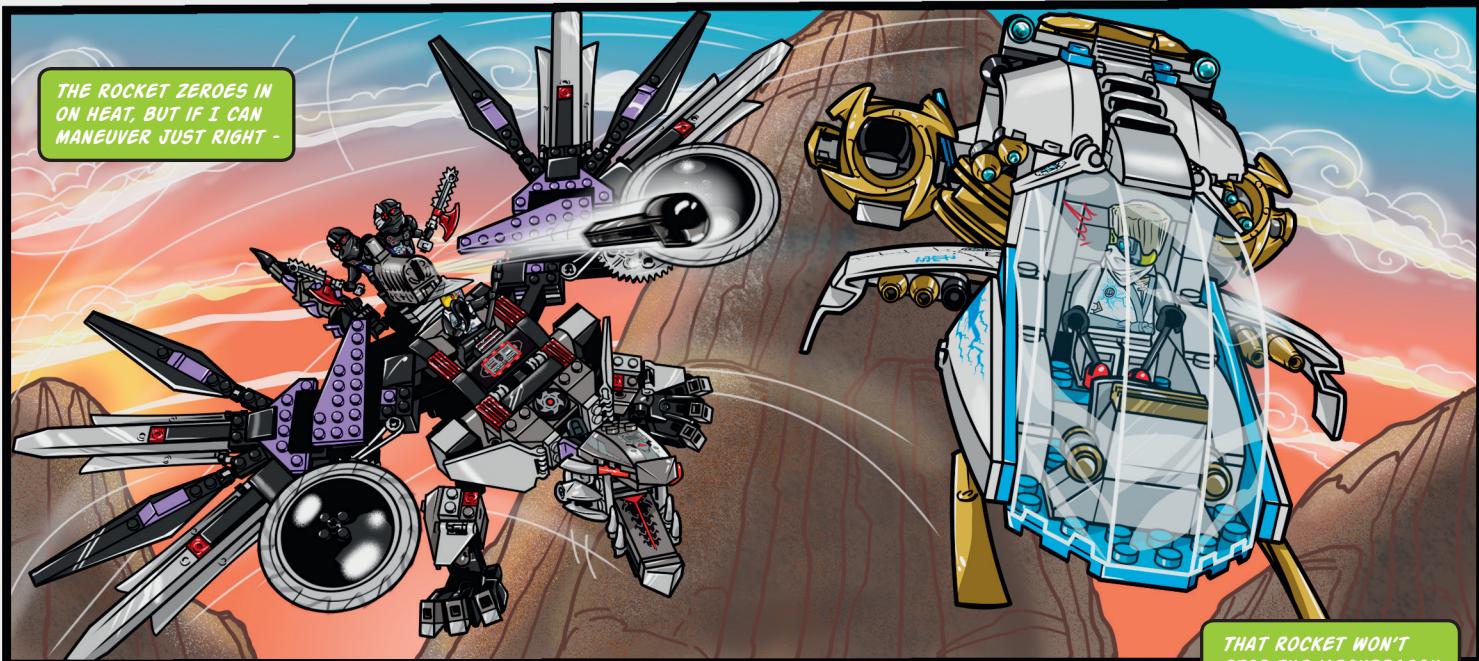

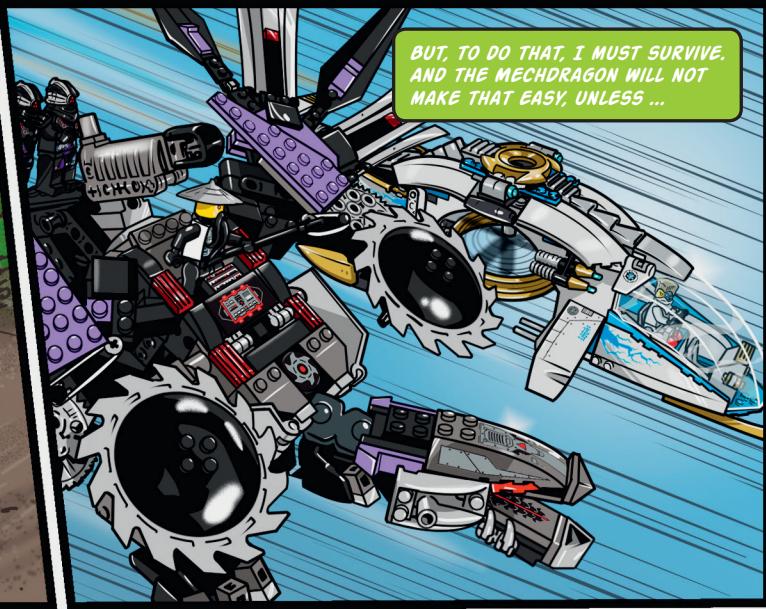

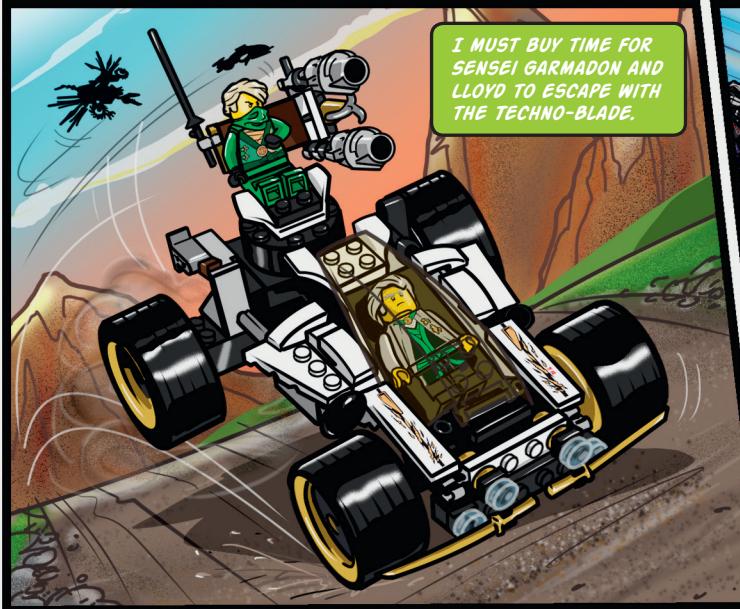

BUT IT IS HARD TO STAY CALM WHEN YOU ARE FACED WITH SOMETHING LIKE THE MECHDRAGON!

AS FRIGHTENING AS THE DRAGON IS, IT'S EVEN WORSE THAT IT IS PILOTED BY SENSEI WU. MY FORMER TEACHER HAS BEEN CORRUPTED BY THE TECHNOLOGY OF THE DIGITAL OVERLORD AND TURNED AGAINST HIS FRIENDS.

AMAZING! HOW COULD SOMETHING SO BIG ALSO BE SO FAST?
